

MUSIC EDUCATION

For the Young and the Young at Heart 09-10 Season

Sarasota Orchestra music classes for the “young and young at heart” meet once a week, with sessions beginning in September and January. Taught by experienced music educators, classes are kept small to offer personalized instruction within a group setting.

Classes for the young are designed to present age appropriate quality musical experiences to children and their parents or caregivers. Classes are offered for children age 5 and up.

Special rates are available for siblings signing up for the same class

Classes for the young at heart are for adults pursuing lifelong learning. Classes are open for the novice through the experienced musician at an affordable cost. Small group format allows for a comfortable interchange, peer support, and personalized attention as participants progress throughout the year. Ensembles perform a free demonstration recital open to the public at the end of each session.
